SUFFOLK, Va. — Evans Distribution Systems, a full service third-party logistics provider of warehousing, transportation, staffing and value added services hired R. Darrick Lemaster as the business development manager.

He has extensive experience with distribution and logistics, business process improvements, supply chain management, and account management. He most recently worked at American Condenser in Suffolk, Va., as the warehouse manager, where he managed international accounts, and increased efficiencies across the board. Previously, Lemaster was the warehouse manager for Blackwater USA in Moyock, N.C., where he managed budgetary parameters, created ISO processes, and had an outstanding relationship with associates.
